EDWARD R. TAYLOR, MAYOR OF
SAN FRANCISCO

Following the notorious disruption when Mayor Schultz and his gang of hoodlums were exposed in San Francisco, the San Francisco municipal election was of importance. The democrats nominated Dr. Edward Robinson Taylor, a character unique in the story of American municipality. He has already served as San Francisco's mayor, following the dispossession of Mayor Schultz. He entered his office in absolute dictation, but the product of a peaceful revolution. He might be said to have had the city entrusted to him. After a long search, he was found in a favorite bookstore and dragged forth by city officials to become chief executive of San Francisco.

Mayor Taylor is now about 70 years of age. He has been a lawyer, physician, scholar, teacher and poet. He is dean of Cooper college and of the law department of the University of California. He has published a number of poems. He was nominated and elected to succeed himself.

Gave Reception: Last evening the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Congregational church gave a reception to the young people of the church and their friends in church parlors. The program consisted of orchestra music under the direction of Mrs. P. E. Lewin, address of welcome by Mr. Denbison, several readings by Miss Florence Spooner, musical numbers by Miss Hattie Richards, Miss Agnes Gebel and Adfred Griekwood. Light refreshments were served and the remainder of the evening was spent in social good time.

WE CLOTHE THE MASSES.
Two Departments, Three Stores, On the Bridge

At Aurora, Ill., Prof. Thomas J. Allen, president of Aurora college, is attempting to demonstrate to the world that peanuts are a proper food. His demonstration goes even further. He proposes to prove that a man could live on a diet of peanuts for 60 days.

Professor Allen wants to prove that the Aurora board of health was wrong in attributing the cause of poison to peanuts. Professor Allen has been a vegetarian and experimenter of special foods for several years. He at once threw down the gauntlet and began two weeks ago to live on a diet of peanuts alone. He is mixing the ground peanuts with the nut part of wheat in the proportion of two-thirds peanuts and one-third wheat. He undergoes each day an examination at the hands of Dr. A. M. Geyer, president of the Aurora board of health. He is weighed each day, his heart examined and his physical condition recorded. A large supply of peanuts has been laid in for the operation. Mr. Allen eats his peanuts twice a day, noon and evening, but takes plenty of water with his meals. The operation is proving somewhat hazardous. Twice already Professor Allen has been forced to fast because the diet was not agreeing with him.

LINK AND PIN ELECTRIC LIGHTS ARE PUT IN AT ARCHWAY

Lighting System Installed to Enable Laborers to Work Until Six O'Clock at Night.

Electric lights have been installed at the Western avenue arch on the North-Western line where the old archway is being taken down and will be replaced with a cement arch, so that the work can be continued each day until 6 o'clock at night. This lighting system lengthens the working day so that the laborers can get in more time. A large derrick is now being used to take down the stone of the old arch. Some of the larger stones are being loaded onto flat cars and will be used by the railroad company at other places. W. A. Rogers, of the contracting firm of Lintz & Rogers, of Chicago, was here yesterday to look over the work being done by his company on the Montrose bridge and Western avenue arch. The Clinton street arch, which has been completed, was also built by the same firm.

SHORTAGE OF CASH AT DEPOTS MAKE TROUBLE

North-Western Employees Are Unable to Realize on Their Pay Checks Now Being Issued.

"Who will cash my check?" is the wall set up by many North-Western employees who have been receiving their pay checks this week although the regular semi-monthly pay day does not come until Saturday the sixteenth. The company checks are issued to the employees in checks not over $20 so that the men may use them to better advantage as currency. Since the banks of the city suspended paying cash the pay checks have been cashed at both the passenger and freight depots when there has been a surplus of currency on hand at either office. The object of issuing the checks at the beginning of the present week is said to be to allow the men to cash their checks at the depots. But the checks have been coming in so fast since yesterday that the cash drawers at the depots have been drained of their surplus currency and some of the employees possessing pay checks cannot realize on them. The switchmen were paid this morning. The laborers working at the new archway 3/2 mi south of the city are the ones most sorely affected by the shortage of cash as they receive their first pay checks and want to get their money before departing.

An English Survival.

A poor laboring man was recently fined and bound over to make his wife, a very quarrelsome and quarrelsome woman, keep the peace for six months. It would be curious to trace how the unfortunate husband accomplished such a feat, but it was doubtless achieved through the pressure which magisterial authority had placed on his shoulders.—Westminster Review.

Mourning Checks.

"What do you think I received the other day from a woman recently bereaved?" said a business man. "Nothing less than a check heavily bordered with black, just the same as mourning at a funeral. I didn't know that the edicts of grief had invaded the domain of finance, but it seems that this is the case."

Wasps Routed Huntsmen.

A curious incident happened during a stag hunt on Exmoor, England. After a fine gallop the stag was taken, and in his struggles he upset several hounds. Hounds and field were routed, and it was some time before the stag's body could be recovered by men swathed in muslin.

Primitive Irrigation.

One primitive method of getting water for irrigating vegetable gardens in China is to dig a hole in a shallow river bed and carry the water to fields in American oil cans. The wail, of course, is lost the next time the river rises.

MILWAUKEE HEARS BRYAN

GUEST OF HONOR AT BANQUET OF JEFFERSON CLUB.

Nebraskan Discusses Democracy and Gives Views on Trusts, Tariff and the Railroads.

Milwaukee, Nov. 12.—William Jennings Bryan was the guest of honor at a banquet on the twenty-first anniversary of the Jefferson club of this city at the Plankinton house Monday night. Covers were laid for over 500 guests.

Mr. Bryan responded to the toast "Democracy." He discussed the democratic theory of government as presented by Jefferson, contrasting it with the Hamiltonian theory of centralization, and in speaking of the spheres of the nation and the state, took occasion to condemn the national incorporation of railroads as proposed by the president, saying that however honestly the president intended it, it was in the interests of the railroads, which desired not greater federal regulation, but escape from state regulation.

On the trust question, he favored the enforcement of the antitrust laws against the trusts, and the enactment of new laws, one of which is known as the license system, to be applied to corporations when they control as much as 25 per cent. of the total output in their respective lines. According to this system no one corporation would be permitted to control more than 50 per cent. of the total product.

On the tariff question he favored immediate revision, beginning with the tariff on articles which come into competition with trust-made articles. Such a tariff, he thought, ought to be entirely removed.

On the railroad question, he expressed himself as in favor of more stringent regulation, to take the form of legislation ascertaining the present value of the railroads, preventing the watering of stock and reducing rates. He argued that a reasonable rate would be a rate that would enable the railroads to maintain their stock at par when the road was honestly capitalized.

He discussed the present money stringency, saying that it began with speculation in New York, but that it has extended owing to the timidity of depositors. He thought that this timidity was not justified, and that the banks of the west are sound. He favored legislation which, by increasing the security of depositors, would remove even an unreasonable fear.

Other speakers who responded to toasts included Timothy E. Ryan, national Democratic committeeman of Wisconsin; Congressman Charles H. Welton; and James W. Murphy of Wisconsin, and John A. Aylward of Madison.

Mr. Bryan left Milwaukee early Tuesday for a week's tour of the state.

FORTY HURT IN CAR CRASH.

Serious Accident on a Trolley Line at Seattle, Wash.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 12.—Forty men, women and children were injured, 26 of them seriously, in a street car accident here Monday, when two speeding cars crashed into each other in a dense fog. Both cars were smashed.

The accident was due to the foolhardy attempt of the conductor and motorman of a city-bound car to steal a switch on an out-bound car. The track ran over a trestle above the tide flats and the fog made it impossible for the men in charge of the cars to see each other until within a few feet. The coaches narrowly escaped toppling over into deep water. Several of the victims may die, among them H. T. Hultin, the man who attempted to steal the switch.

C. D. Wyman Dies on a Train.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 12.—C. D. Wyman, a member of the Stone-Webster company's executive committee and an official of the Boston Street Railway corporation, died suddenly Sunday morning in a railway train in Montana while en route from Boston to Seattle. He was managing director of all the Stone-Webster properties in the Puget Sound district and held official positions in five of the subsidiary corporations.

Asbestos Company Burned Out.

St. Louis, Nov. 12.—The fourth blaze within 24 hours, discovered in the T. W. Johns Manville Asbestos company building at 214 North Broadway, resulted in a fire that swept through the two upper stories Monday and caused a loss estimated at $150,000.

READJUSTMENT

During the past year there has been a tremendous readjustment of the prices of securities. This readjustment has been from a high to a low level and has resulted in an average depreciation of over 50 per cent in the shares of railroad companies. Most of this readjustment preceded the recent panic, says the Wall Street Journal.

It has been apparent for some months that the readjustment of prices in the stock market must be followed by a readjustment of prices of commodities and of labor. The panic by its violence has made this readjustment more certain and probably more drastic. It is therefore fair to assume that during the next year there will be a decline in the prices of many commodities and of wages. The extent of the readjustment of commodity prices will depend, of course, upon the resisting and recuperative power of the country, which is very great; but at best it must produce much strain and change. Any considerable falling off in the volume of business and decline in prices must inevitably affect the market of labor. Unfortunately, this readjustment will come in a year of a presidential campaign, and politics will complicate the working out of a purely economic problem. Organized labor will present a solid front against any readjustment of wages from a higher to a lower point. Already Mr. Gompers, as the foremost leader of labor in this country, has proclaimed his unalterable opposition to any reduction in wages, and he bases this opposition upon what he terms an economic proposition, that it is only by keeping wages high that pauperism may be stopped and business activity maintained. Mr. Gompers' position is, of course, unsound, and he cannot hope, by any combination or by any political activity, to prevent the operation of the law of supply and demand in its effect upon the price of labor, although he may be able to cause delay and hardship. Any attempt to reduce wages will produce opposition, disorder and probably political agitation.

It is well to face this situation squarely and to meet it firmly. Of course, this country with its splendid resources and its great citizenry will find solution for the problem of readjustment, just as it finds a solution for the emergencies of panic.

PROFESSOR BUELL

The Milwaukee Sentinel pays a pretty tribute to Professor H. C. Buell, superintendent of our city schools and recently elected President of the State Teachers' association. The Sentinel compliments Mr. Buell so nicely that it will bear repetition.

"In congratulating itself on the election of Sup't. H. C. Buell of Janesville as its president, the Wisconsin Teachers' association is justified both by his professional record and by his high personal character. It is perhaps a significant fact that since his election the comment which has been made on all sides is one of confidence that his administration will be characterized by fairness to all the educational interests of the state. There have been many echoes of the statement made by President M. H. Jackson, who said: 'You may be sure that Mr. Buell will lend himself to no faction; he will stand for the common and the best interests of the entire association and I know of no man better fitted to unify all these interests.'"

It is perhaps true that the association has never had a president who has kept in closer touch with the various lines of school work than Mr. Buell. He has himself taught in the country schools and his rise to the position of city superintendent, first in Whitewater and then in Janesville, where he has served efficiently for seven years, has been rapid. Much of his vacation time in former years has been spent in institute work and in this work he has added materially to the solution of problems peculiar to the rural schools. The country teacher has always been sure of his sympathy and his counsel, and the work which he has done for and with them proved no small factor in his election.

"In all the educational work which Mr. Buell has done in the association and out, never any display. It has won recognition by its own merit and this recognition has come as the reward of years of constant service, rather than as the result of one spectacular achievement. Nor has his service been confined to the school room and its affairs. He has done fully as valuable work in furthering clean athletics and in encouraging scholastic contests. His experience and his ability as an executive have been proved both in the schools and in convention work, he having been president of the Southern Wisconsin Teachers' association and the Wisconsin Library association."

Will it not be nice to look back upon the days when the cashier checks went for money in Janesville, while thousands of dollars was deposited in the banks to secure their payment? It has been strenuous times for the banks and their clerks but business has not suffered to any remarkable extent.

Foreigners prefer to buy postoffice orders for shipment to their relatives in the old country because their postal authorities promptly cash them, while they investigate the drafts sent. This is an argument in favor of a currency backed by the national government.

Windsor Forest, where King Edward and Emperor William are shooting today, was once famous in history. Tradition tells us that Robin Hood lived in both Windsor and Sherwood Forests and everyone knows who Robin Hood was.

The total gold movement from Europe to America has reached a total of sixty millions thus far and more is to come. Who says that Uncle Sam can't reach out and get the money anywhere he wants to.

People can figure out how much money Europe owes us or will within a short time when the cotton crop and the wheat crop are all sent abroad.

While Janesville started out slowly last spring in the building line it is going to finish up strong before the end of the year comes.

Janesville will not be visited by the Silver Tongued gentleman from the Platte this year. He may come next spring, but not this winter.

It is going to cost twenty-three millions for the proposed fortifications for the coming year. It comes high, but we must have them.

The Milwaukee News has much to say these days relative to the democratic party and its reception of William Jennings.

If that Dago prophet says truly this world is in for all sorts of excitement when those Sun spots come to a focus.

This evening the Twilight Club is hearing what would be good for Janesville in a business and commercial way.

Secretary Taft is by no means bent on just because Burton lost out.

Emperor Bill and King Eddie are out on a shooting tourney.

Russian Fighting Geese.

In Russia pits for cock fighting are unknown, but "goosepits" some 60 years ago were common throughout that mighty kingdom. The effect of this can be seen to-day in the geese which are indigenous to the country, the Aransas and the Tula varieties particularly showing a marked degree the fighting characters of their ancestors. The Aransas gander has a bill which is entirely different in form from that of the geese known in any other part of the world. This special structure enables the bird to take a firm grip on the neck or back of its antagonist.

Who Kills a Good Book Kills a Reason.

Unless wariness be used, as good almost kill a man as kill a good book. Who kills a man kills a reasonable creature—God's image, but he who kills a good book kills reason itself—kills the image of God, as it were, in the eye. Many a man lives a burden to the earth, but a good book is the precious life blood of a master spirit, embalmed and treasured up on purpose to a life beyond life.—John Milton.

His Present State.

"What state does the young fellow belong to who wants to marry old Billy's daughter?" "Judging from his appearance when I saw him come out of the old man's office I should say a state of collapse."

Popularity.

"Doesn't Mr. Keenote play any popular music?" "No," answered Miss Cayenne; "his style of playing would make anything unpopular."

CURE FOR MUSCULAR FATIGUE.

Best Method of Obtaining Sound and Refreshing Sleep.

Real fatigue may be divided into the mental and muscular varieties. The latter is decidedly the simpler of the two. Where one has so overworked physically that one cannot sleep, the first thing to do is to learn to relax. In such a case the first thing to do is to take a warm bath, into which a little rock salt has been dropped to counteract the weakening effect of hot water. Then shut out every ray of light from your bedroom and lie flat on your back. Do not close your eyes and think desperately of going to sleep. Instead, devote yourself entirely to the subject of keeping your eyes open. If they close, open them; if necessary, open your mouth with your fingers; whatever you do, continue to stare wide-eyed into the darkness, and most important of all, think of that one question only. In about five minutes you will be so sleepy that no will-power on earth could keep you awake. The one cure for fatigue is rest, and after prolonged physical effort, the paramount issue is to get to sleep immediately, and to sleep as long as possible.

AS EXPLAINED BY THE EDITOR.

Draconic Action Evidently Was Necessary, and It Was Taken.

The Rule's Creek (S. C.) Index to the Times recently came out with a double-headed editorial as follows: "We wish to make our subject apologies to Hon. Ezekiah E. Kinney for having said of him in our last issue that he 'furnishes his garments.' What we meant to say was 'furnishes his arguments.' We have had our eye on the printer ever since he twisted a phrase which appeared in an editorial of ours from 'full of internal rottenness and dead men's bones' into 'internal rattlesnakes and dead vipers' tunes.' And as soon as our eye lit upon this gratuitous insult above to the Hon. Ezekiah E. Kinney, we armed ourselves with our repeating shotgun, sought out the guilty party and shot him down in cold blood, notwithstanding the fact that the now deceased was the only support of a widowed mother and possessed a large and flourishing family. We wish to assure the Hon. Ezekiah E. Kinney that in the future his person and his speeches will be handled in these columns with respect."—New York Press.

For Over 60 Years

The Name "Favorite"

Has represented the best quality in the stove business; each year has made the name more secure for superiority of workmanship, material and construction. Favorite Stoves and Ranges are made in a plant that occupies ten acres of the most complete of its kind in the world. Every style that is desirable is made in the Favorite assortment. You are secure in not obtaining a poorly made Stove or Range if you buy a Favorite—the quality of workmanship and material being unequalled.

Your Friends Do Not Tell You What They Think

About the way you look with those had teeth in your mouth. If they did they would say that you look ten years older than you really are.

And all because you neglect to have the dentist replace those teeth you have lost.

Are your cheeks hollow? It's because you have had your back teeth extracted.

Dr. Richards can fill out those cheeks and bring back the plumpness and beauty you so sorely miss.

It gives him as much pleasure to improve your good looks as it will give you when you look into the mirror and see what a change for the better has been brought about.

And lastly, his prices are the most reasonable in the city, and he guarantees his work to be right.

COUNTY BOARD'S SESSIONS OPEN

COMMUNICATIONS RECEIVED AND REFERRED TO COMMITTEES.

ELECT OFFICERS THURSDAY

Other Work Towards Beginning the Labor of New Officials Started.

With E. N. Hansen seated in place of G. Clemenson of Oshkosh, who is at present absent from the county, the roll call showed every member of the county board of supervisors present when Chairman S. B. Jones called the November session to order this afternoon.

Road Business Thursday

From W. O. Hotchkiss, chief of the highway division of the state government, a communication was received with regard to the construction of the new laws relating to the powers and duties of counties in this matter.

The writer held that the law required each county to lay out a prospective system of highways radiating from the trading centers to every town; to elect a competent engineer and road builder as road commissioner and fix his compensation; to levy a tax of not less than one-fourth of one mill or more than two mills on all property for a road and bridge fund, to which cause the towns might further contribute by levying additional taxes of from one-fourth to 2 1/2 mills; and that the towns were to petition for aid in road building through their supervisors, as heretofore.

This communication was referred to a committee composed of Supervisors Skavlan, Gottlieb, Grody, and Smiley and District Attorney J. L. Fisher which will investigate the whole matter of the two laws which appear to conflict in many such important provisions as the initiative, and report on Thursday.

Election of Officers

In accordance with a resolution passed this afternoon, the business of electing a road commissioner will be taken up after this report is made; also the elections to such other offices as must be filled at this time.

The name of Supervisor H. L. Skavlan is the only one thus far prominently mentioned for this important office. P. P. Starr and W. W. Gilles of Kenosha have also been mentioned for supervisor of assessment.

The first named seeking to be his own successor. B. H. Kenyon and A. C. Munger are out for the office of poor commissioner. Emmett D. McGowan is mentioned as a possible successor of W. J. McIntyre as trustee of the county asylum. L. M. Nelson is the only candidate for janitor of the court house. Under the new law the board must elect a county supervisor of Canada thistles. This official stands in line to get the same salary as the supervisor of assessments.

$150 a day for not over 200 days per year as now fixed but to be again determined for three years at the present session.

W. H. Maclean Objects.

W. H. Maclean, in a communication objected vigorously to the action of the purchasing committee in purchasing for sealed bids for furnishing the county coal and paying the People's Coal Co. an alleged higher price than either he or the Cullen Co. would have charged, citing the alleged statements of Supervisor Woodruff that Maclean's deliveries in the past had not been satisfactory and that he was an untrustworthy man to do business with, as unwarrantable intrusions. Members of the committee explained that while Maclean had always seemed anxious to bid, he would never sign contracts and give bonds and that the board had bought the coal on verbal bids much cheaper than they did last year. The matter was referred to Committee No. 3.

TWO ACCIDENTS TO EYES OCCUR IN SAME MANNER

Eye of Blanchardville Man Destroyed by Nail—Stoughton Boy Injured in Same Way.

Two accidents injuring the same parts of the body and from the same cause recently. Andrew Houck, a farmer living near Blanchardville, Wis., was here, suffering the loss of his right eye last week while driving a nail into a bracket which he was trying to fasten to a telephone pole. As he struck the nail with his hammer the blow glanced off and the nail flew into his eye, destroying the member instantly. Mr. Houck is now in the Mercy Hospital where he is receiving treatment. An almost parallel case to Mr. Houck's accident occurred to Charles Jergenson, an eighty-year old boy living near Stoughton, who was struck in the right eye by a nail which he was pounding yesterday. It happened the blow struck at a glance on his eye and only cut a nail in it. The wound in above the line of sight on the ball of the eye and it is thought that the sight of the eye will be saved. Both patients are under the care of Dr. J. P. Thorne of this city.

EARL BAXTER SENT TO THE REFORMATORY

Will Serve a Two Years' Sentence For Attempted Assault on Little Four Year Old Girl.

Two years' confinement in the state reformatory at Green Bay was the sentence noted out to sixteen year old Earl Baxter, when, at a late hour yesterday afternoon, he decided to wake the examination which had been set for Thursday and enter a plea of guilty to the charge of attempted assault on little four year old Maude Gould of the town of Johnstown. Dr. G. C. Waukele gave testimony that the child had not sustained any physical injury. Mr. and Mrs. Levi Gould, the parents of the girl, and the mother of the boy who lives near Ft. Atkinson, were in the courtroom.

Benjamin B. Hill

Funeral services were held over the late Benjamin B. Hill, whose remains arrived here this morning from Milwaukee, at the Oak Hill chapel at 11 o'clock. The Rev. J. W. Laughlin officiated and the services were conducted by the local lodge of the I. O. O. F. The honorary pallbearers, members of the local G. A. R. post, were J. L. Bear, W. H. Noyes, C. T. Schermerhorn, L. H. Lee, James Bliss and Jerome Howland. The active bearers were Edward Smith, Henry Rogers, Robert W. Scott, B. S. Blanchard, W. E. Spicer, and Elijah Carter.

Mrs. Margaret J. Tarrant

Margaret J. Tarrant passed peacefully away at the Mercy Hospital Sunday evening at 6:30. Her maiden name was Arnold; she was born in 1841 in Pennsylvania. She was married to Henry Tarrant Christmas day, 1857, who died Sept. 24, 1903, in this city, a man who was well known throughout Rock county.

Mrs. Tarrant was a woman of unusual sweetness of character. A disposition naturally bright and cheerful, was permeated and hallowed by a deep, genuine piety which shone out with no uncertain light in every relationship in life. Quiet and unobtrusive in manner, she was firm as a rock in her devotion to the right, and in her allegiance to her Lord. Her home was full of sunshine and generous hospitality to which a host of friends will bear testimony.

She was a good mother ever careful and anxious for the welfare of her children and never spared any comfort for their upbringing, and even to the last her great thought and prayer was for her children.

The funeral was held from the Methodist church at 1 o'clock this afternoon and interment was in the Fortville cemetery.

RELIABLE UP-TO-DATE FURNITURE

Come Out Tomorrow and See the Biggest Success in the History of the Furniture Business.

A New Kind of Sale With New Kinds of Economics.

We are going to upset some old time sale ideas. We are going to overturn some antiquated rules of how cheaply good goods can be sold—we are going to demonstrate, beyond a doubt, THE ABILITY of FRANK D. KIMBALL'S STORE—we are going to extend your dollars—going to increase the purchasing power—going to make them go further and last longer and buy more than ever before.

We'll Stretch your dollars until two will do about the work of three. This sale is deservedly as well as suggestively named and we will give the name a meaning far beyond mere advertising talk. Under prices will help us. Over values will help you. The two combined assure us of success. We will sell goods faster than ever before—we will crowd a week of ordinary business into a day or two of selling. Every department will be represented. Quick action prices will be in evidence on every hand. Look for the WHITE CARDS, read them and heed them. All marked in plain figures. A child can buy here as safely as a grown person. One price to all and that the lowest in the Great Quick Action Sale.

COME!

We expect you,
don't disappoint
us, if as onlookers only. It will pay to investigate
this opportunity.

A Large Eagle Shot.—J. H. Inman, residing about 10 miles south of the city on the Beloit road, shot, on Monday, a black eagle measuring seven feet and seven inches from tip to tip of wings. The talons measured seven inches. He was truly a formidable looking bird and was in the act of tearing to pieces a pigeon which he had pounced upon when he was shot.

Teacher's Institute.—We urge upon our citizens the necessity of giving a cordial support to the Teacher's Institute now in session in this city both by attending the daily exercises at the high school building and by lending their attendance at the evening meetings in Lippin's hall. Rev. L. N. Cuddeback, superintendent of Fond du Lac county, will lecture this evening upon "General Educational Topics," and Dr. P. A. Chaddock, president of the Wisconsin university, will lecture tomorrow evening. Let every citizen show his interest and moral support to education by encouraging the teachers in this gathering of theirs.

GETS ONE YEAR FOR BIGAMY.

Albert Bates Admits Guilt, Making an Ingenious Excuse.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Nov. 12.—Albert Bates was sentenced Monday to serve one year in the penitentiary for bigamy. He acknowledged that he had been married often, but thought he had always waited long enough for the preceding wife to get a divorce before he married the next one. He did not inquire about the divorce, but took it for granted that one would be obtained.

A sister-in-law, with whom he eloped, was the latest venture in matrimony undertaken by Bates. He was arrested a few days ago on a house boat in the Mississippi river.

JONES ORDINANCE PASSED

By Common Council Last Evening—
Ald. Clark Fathers Tree-trimming
Reform—Compromise Settlement
With Mrs. Robinson.

When Alderman Arthur Jones' ordinance, restricting the street and interurban cars to highway intersections as points for loading or unloading passengers, came up for a third reading and passage at the meeting of the city council last evening, Ald. W. H. Morrill offered an amendment striking out the words
"any of the streets of said city" and inserting in lieu thereof the words:
"East and West Milwaukee street from Division street to Academy St.
and on South Main street from East Milwaukee street to Court street."
Ald. O'Hara was of the opinion that the street railway Co. has a hard enough time now to get along and accommodate customers, without being hampered by additional city regulations. Ald. Morrill was informed by Supt. Murphy that the measure as amended would be perfectly satisfactory. The ordinance thought that passengers who disembarked from the cars in the middle of a block, especially in the business section, did so at considerable risk as their action could not be foreseen by teamsters. Ald. Brown had conversed with Supt. Murphy a few hours before the meeting and had found the latter much elated at the prospect of "adverse legislation" and what he considered a gratuitous effort to injure the company's business. The superintendent had said that many passengers wanted to be let off at points such as the Merchants & Machines bank, Holt, Bailey & Co's store, etc., in the long block between the Main and River street intersections; that the ordinance had ample time to make those stops; and that it was money in the company's treasury to furnish such accommodations. To the speaker the proposed procedure appeared to be an effort to adopt city measures in a little three-cornered town. Of course people might be run down by teams but they are always liable to such accidents while vehicles were allowed to permeate the streets. Ald. Jones thought that the city had been very considerate in its treatment of the Street Car Co. Inasmuch as the corporation had not even been compelled to pay for the road repairs between its tracks. Ald.
Morrill remarked that the city had tried hard enough to compel the payment of this obligation. The measure was passed by a vote of 5 to 3. Aldermen Jones, Morrill, Holfield, Sheldon,
and Sheridan voting in the affirmative;
and Aldermen Brown, Clark and O'Hara registering negatives. Ald.
Dulin was absent from the session and Ald. Buchholz had been excused before this matter came to a vote.

Damage Suit Settled.
During the protracted recess and strengthening session of the City Council and John C. Fisher, representative of the Milwaukee Park property owners who think that the city is liable to them for damage done to their property by the deep cuts made in the recent grading operations, appeared before the City Fathers with an offer to compromise previous claims and settle on a basis which would require the city to bear only the cost of building retaining walls.
It will be remembered that at the council meeting on Sept. 2 damage claims aggregating $6,000 were disallowed. Mrs. Pauline Robinson wanted $3,000 redress for injury worked to her property at the corner of Carroll and Carleton streets, and the other claimants asked less but quite imposing amounts. Mrs.
Robinson's attorneys last night offered to settle for $116.12, the estimated cost of a retaining wall, leaving out of consideration any expense of grading and terracing the lot, or any possible depreciation in the actual value of the real estate.
Other settlements proposed were as follows: Mrs. Parnley (for retaining wall about property at the corner of Garfield avenue and Wheeler street)
—$65.55; Mrs. Christman (for property at the corner of Wheeler and Logan streets)—$43.25; for repairing with a retaining wall the damage done to the Archer property on Logan St.
—$66. Mr. Hahn who owns property on Garfield avenue just south of the Parnley premises is said to be the only irrefragable. He wants the full amount of his claim—$200—
the harm alleged to have been done to a single lot. In the open council meeting action was taken only on one case—that of Mrs. Robinson. An order directing the city clerk to draw on the treasurer in favor of this claimant for the sum of $300, upon her showing a full release of all claims for damage done by grading work,
was passed. Aldermen Clark, Jones, Morrill, O'Hara, Holfield, Sheldon,
and Sheridan voting in the affirmative,
and Aldermen Brown and Buchholz voting in the negative. The other proposals of settlement will probably be taken up at a future session.

New Lights For the City.
A resolution introduced by Ald.
O'Hara, chairman of the Lighting committee, and passed, provides that inasmuch as the city has found it necessary to protect the employees of the sugar factory and others who traverse the section of the city where the said plant is located, 50 candle power lamps shall be placed at the intersection of S. Main street and Eastern avenue; at the point where the C. M.
& St. P. railroad tracks cross S. Main Eastern avenue—these three lamps to be lighted during the best sugar season; that an arc lamp shall be placed on State street, location to be determined by the aldermen of the ward; and that a 50 candle-power lamp be placed at the S. Franklin street bridge in the first ward. The Electric Co. is directed to install these lights in accordance with directions.

Reports Submitted.

Supt. George T. Croft of the crusher plant reported 2,332½ yards of stone crushed and delivered during the session of 1907. The first ward received

6,86½ yards; the second ward, 180½;

tion showed that orders amounting to $14,740.19 were drawn during October. Of this amount $8,908 went to

J. P. Cullen for work on the Jefferson school contract; $600 to Chandler &

Park for school plans; and $3,231.19

for the teachers' monthly pay-roll.

The city treasurer's report for October and the finance committee's report on bills were also received and adopted.

Financial Transactions.

By virtue of an order introduced by Ald. Sheridan, chairman of the highway committee, and passed, the city clerk was directed to sign and deliver to Contractor P. W. Ryan such certificates for the N. Academy street improvement work as property owners had filed election to pay, in all

$1,310.80, and that the balance be delivered to the city treasurer for collection. The money received by the city clerk was directed to draw on the treasurer for $50, payable from the general fund, in favor of City Attorney MacBride for the purpose of paying witness fees and expenses incurred in the forthcoming trial of actions in the circuit court.

It was directed that $1,000, the balance due for sewer construction work,

be turned over to Harding & Nelson,

the same to be drawn from the following funds, in the following amounts: Sewer Dist. 6—$100;

Sewer Dist. 10—$900.

The city attorney was directed to settle with Kate Trenchard for injuries sustained by falling on an alleged defective sidewalk in an amount not to exceed $100.

Ald. Buchholz of the judiciary committee asked for and was granted further time for the consideration of Charles Heddie's claim against the city for $500 damages for injuries to a horse.

Tree-Trimming Measure—Grades.

An ordinance to provide for and regulate the trimming of shade trees within the limits of any highway in the city of Janesville was introduced by Ald. Clark, given its first and second reading, and held over for consideration at a future session.

The measure empowers and directs the street commissioner to trim all shade trees in the city standing within the limits of any highway cut less than ten feet from the outer edge of the sidewalk line, and eighteen feet from the middle of the street.

Grades for Third street, from Sharon to Wheeler street; Grand avenue;

and Eastern avenue in the Monterey addition, were filed by the city engineer and accepted.

Interurban Co. Must Repair.

The street commissioner was directed to serve notice on the R. & B.

J. Interurban Co., to repair the portion of the highway lying between its spur track or switch on N. Franklin street, north of Wall street, within ten days after the service of a copy of the order; and if not complied with the commissioner was instructed to carry out the order himself, and report the expense to the council,

the same to be charged against the said Interurban Co.

Cutters, Sidewalks, and Streets.

The city sidewalk contractor was directed to build a cement sidewalk

over the alley on the south side of Carleton street. Orders were passed directing the street commissioner to build temporary culver-gates at points in the third ward where grading work had made such procedure advisable; to repair the roadbed on S. Third street between Jefferson avenue and Rhinclair street;

to rebuild and repair the box culvert

across Williams street, on the north side of St. Mary's avenue; to fill the depressions on the portion of the Belolt road known as Hughes' hill; to clean the gutters on Sheridan street,

and to lower the grade of the Dolan

road hill.

Invited to a Junket.

Representatives of the Kelly-Springfield and Monarch road-roller companies were given permission to make a few remarks and invited the council to send a committee to Chicago to look over the various makes before buying. Both companies had funds to devote to advertising purposes and would be glad to bear the expense of such a junket.

SHAW TALKS ABOUT MONEY TROUBLE

WEAKNESS OF SYSTEM IS THAT CURRENCY IS NOT ELASTIC.

HE SUGGESTS A REMEDY

Would Permit National Banks to Issue Additional Circulation Without Collateral When It Is Needed.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 12.—Former Secretary of the Treasury Shaw addressed the chamber of commerce Monday night on the financial situation.

In the judgment of Mr. Shaw, the only weakness of the American monetary system is that the currency is non-elastic, that its volume does not respond to changing seasons and the varying needs of trade.

"There were indications as early as August," said Mr. Shaw, "that people had been hoarding and in response were withdrawing money and locking it up. It was the incipient symptom of a disease which always first shows itself in this way. In addition, increased commercial activity incident to the return of business men from summer vacations, a ripening crop, and the inflating of stocks of merchandise, caused an unprecedented demand for money. Still, the aggregate volume remained fixed, inflexible and non-elastic."

Mr. Shaw's remedy. "Had the national banks been empowered to issue additional circulation equal to 50 per cent. of their capital without a deposit to secure its redemption, but subject to a tax of five per cent., an aggregate increase of $400,000,000 would have been possible and $200,000,000 would very likely have been issued. The people would have carried to their safe deposit vaults or taken home for concealment a national bank note as readily as a gold certificate, and they would have been just as safe."

"The redemption of the existing national bank note is now guaranteed by the government for it is secured by a deposit of government bonds which are direct obligations of the government. I grant that it is illogical for the government to guarantee bank notes, but the people have become so accustomed to money bearing in one form or another the obligation of the government, it would be willing to surrender the guarantee to this suggested additional issuance of bank notes."

Credit Men Are Confident. Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 12.—The directors of the National Association of Credit Men, the largest commercial organization in the United States, with a membership of 9,000, met here Monday and affirmed the implicit faith of organization in the commercial integrity of the nation and in the business principles on which the affairs of the mercantile community are conducted.

New Orleans Exchange Closed. New Orleans, Nov. 12.—The Louisiana stock exchange decided to remain closed for the week. This was at the request of the clearing house.

Bank in Ventura, Cal., Closes. Ventura, Cal., Nov. 12.—The bank of William Collins & Sons, of this city, closed its doors Monday and a statement was given out that the bank is taking advantage of the day-to-day holiday. The bank has long been considered one of the most substantial institutions of this country. It has deposits of over $100,000 from the farmers and business men of this section, but its assets far exceed this amount.

Haul $3,000,000 Through Streets. Chicago, Nov. 12.—Three million dollars in gold was carried through the streets of Chicago Monday in four express wagons, attracting much more attention than would ordinarily be displayed at the sight of the 50 policemen who guarded the money marching down the street. The gold was transferred from the Chicago sub-treasury to the First National bank. It constitutes the largest single draft for gold ever made upon the sub-treasury, according to Cashier Russell, although larger sums of gold have been transported through the streets at various times when a bank moved from one building to another.

Will Fight Scorp in Texas. Dallas, Tex., Nov. 12.—W. A. Well, United States attorney for the Northern district of Texas, Monday issued a statement in which, after quoting the federal constitution and statute, he uses the following language:

"Section 5138 provides as follows: National banking associations shall not issue any other notes or circulation as money than such as are authorized by the provisions of this title."

"The provisions of the law mentioned allow the issuing of certain national bank currency, with which we are all familiar, and no other. In line with the law, therefore, if there be a money stringency in the northern district of Texas, due to a failure of money centers to pay what they owe our local banks, no clearing house in this district will issue any promises to pay or any scrip which violates any of the provisions of the above quoted laws."

South Dakota's Gold Production. Pierre, S. D., Nov. 12.—Without giving specific figures, State Mine Inspector Treweek, in his annual report to the governor, places the gold production of South Dakota at $1,000,000 less than for last year.

LIVED AS MAN SIXTY YEARS

CATHERINE VOSBAUGH DIES AFTER LONG MASQUERADE.

Her Sex Revealed in Hospital at Trinidad, Col.—"Married" Woman in St. Joseph, Mo.

Trinidad, Col., Nov. 12.—Catherine Vosbaugh, who for nearly 60 years passed as a man, died at a hospital in this city Monday.

Miss Vosbaugh was born in France 82 years ago. When a young woman she found it difficult to make her way on account of her sex and, adopting men's clothes, she obtained employment as a bookkeeper in Joplin, Mo. This position she held for nine years, and then accepted a position in a St. Joseph (Mo.) bank. While in St. Joseph she married a woman, with whom she lived for over 30 years. The woman was in trouble, and "Charles" Vosbaugh married her to protect her. The two women, still masquerading as man and wife, came to Trinidad two years ago.

After the death of her "wife" Miss Vosbaugh worked here in various capacities until she became feeble, and last year was taken to the hospital. It was then that her sex was discovered, but even after her recovery she refused to change her clothing.

BURGARS TORTURE OLD WOMAN

Burn, Beat and Kick Her Until She Is Near Death.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 12.—Burgars on Friday night broke into the residence of Mrs. Stella Mauthner, an aged woman who lives alone near the state road. In the town of Perinton, and subjected her to terrible tortures in an effort to force her to reveal her savings. She was discovered Sunday by neighbors and is not expected to recover.

Two men forced an entrance to her home at midnight. They seized the aged woman, bound her to a chair and held lighted newspapers close to her eyes, allowing the flames to burn her hands and arms. Then they ransacked the house and finding only four dollars, they vented their rage by beating the woman and kicking her into insensibility.

SHEBOYGAN GIRL DISOWNED.

Arrested in Chicago, Her Family Refuses to Help Her.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—"Nothing can be kept secret in a little city like this." This was the principal reason given by the family of Miss Anna Evers, 22 years old, for declining to help her while she was imprisoned in the Harrison street annex, Sheboygan, Wis., in the little city in which secrets cannot be buried. The refusal of aid came in the form of a letter which Miss Evers showed to Judge Nowcomer in the Harrison street court Monday. She then begged the court to be merciful and after reading the letter Judge Nowcomer promised to parole her.

Miss Evers was arrested last week by detectives of the Harrison street police station for being intoxicated. She was about to leave a State street hotel at the time.

D. M. Ferry, Seed Man, Is Dead.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 12.—Dexter M. Ferry, head of one of the greatest seed firms in the United States, which bore his name, and prominent in local business enterprises, was found dead in bed at his home here Monday. He retired last night in apparently good health and died from heart disease during the night. He was born near Rochester, N. Y., in 1833. He came to Detroit when a young man and amassed a large fortune, being one of the wealthiest men in Detroit. He was a prominent Republican.

Packing Plant Is Burned.

Illwaco, Pa., Nov. 12.—The large plant of Swift & Co., the Chicago packers, was completely destroyed by fire Monday night, entailing a loss of $250,000, partly covered by insurance.

No One Indispensable.

A JANEVILLE CASE

Many More Like It in Janesville.

The following case is but one of many similar occurring daily in Janesville. It is an easy matter to verify its correctness. Surely you cannot ask for better proof than such conclusive evidence.

Chas. W. Allen, of 126 Chatham St., Janesville, Wis., says: "After my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills, I am ready to recommend them as a remedy that can be relied upon in kidney troubles and backache. I tried many different remedies for these complaints, but until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at the Peoples' drug company I found little or no help. After a few days' use of Doan's Kidney Pills, the aching and other symptoms left me and since I discontinued their use, have never returned."

HIS COURTSHIP

By HELEN R. MARTIN.
Author of "Tillie: A Mennonite Maid."

"Is it," she asked, "that you are concerned in this controversy about Miss Ellery's frock?"

"No," he replied, smiling. "It is not about Miss Ellery's frock I wanted to talk to you."

It was evident that the episode of the frock had been, to her mind, the only notable one of the previous evening.

"Let us sit down," he repeated. Her face lighted up as she obeyed.

With a brightness that transformed him, he surveyed her with a candid candor which she was loath to drop. He remained silent to give her a chance to tell him why she sought him here at an hour when all the rest of the family were abed.

"I want to ask you," she began timidly, "to tell me something if you are quite willing to spare your time to me."

The occasional unusualness of her mode of expression struck her as touching of foreboding. There was another phase of the mystery of her.

"I couldn't make better use of my time," he answered, "ask me anything you like, child."

The kindness of his tone as he called her "child" made her eyes grow suddenly misty, so now it was to hear herself spoken to as though she were not a child or a slave. Her voice as she answered him was very low and sweet.

"I am anxious to have you tell me whether a girl like me could find a place out in the world where she could earn her living?"

It was to ask him this that she had come to him tonight. But would it not have been a more natural thing for her to have gone to Georgiana or Daisy with such an inquiry? He wondered why she had chosen to ask him in preference to them.

"It depends upon the sort of place you would want. Some sorts of work are easy to secure. Others are not. What kind of work do you mean?"

"That's what I hoped you could tell me—the sort of work there is in town whereby a girl like me could earn her living?"

"Domestic service?" he hesitatingly suggested. But somehow in spite of her servitude to the farmer's family this struck him as utterly incongruous.

"Places for domestic service can be secured easily—almost on your own terms. But if you are thinking of some other sort of occupation?"

He paused questioningly, but she said nothing. Only her repressed eagerness urged him on.

"I should have to know more about you before I could judge of your chances."

Again he paused, but she remained silent.

"If you will tell me something of yourself," he suggested.

She looked surprised. "But there is nothing to tell of me more than what you yourself have seen."

He looked at her with searching eyes. "Isn't there?"

"No," she answered with a frankness that ought to have carried conviction.

"Could you do any other sort of work than what I have seen you doing and housework?"

"I don't know. What other things are done by women?"

"Well, there are shopgirls, stenographers, milliners, bookkeepers, teachers."

He turned and again looked at her keenly. "Would you like to teach?"

"But I haven't an education."

"Just how much schooling have you had?"

"I was taken out of school when I was twelve years old."

"And have had no instruction of any sort since then?"

"No."

"And never have been off the farm?"

"Never except the few times that I have been in town to the market for a half day."

"Then, Emma," he inquired with impressive earnestness, "may I ask how you happen to speak a language so unlike that of the Mornings?"

He watched her closely as he put the question. Her face, so near to him, glowed like ivory in the starlight, and he could plainly see her countenance.

The question brought a startled look to her eyes, and again he saw her brown hair rise in a long, deep breath.

She did not attempt to answer him.

"For instance, why are you so different from Ollie when you two have had the same rearing?"

She swallowed hard and seemed to make an effort to speak to him.

"Is that a mystery?" she said. "But it is easily explained. We are not of the same parentage."

"Do you know anything of your own parents?"

There was a scarcely perceptible hesitation before she answered.

"No." Her voice sounded remote, as though she shrunk from his questioning.

"That in itself is strange, isn't it?" he ventured, hesitating to force his investigations against her evident reluctance, but his keen curiosity getting the better of his finer feeling.

"I suppose it is," she answered, her voice subdued, her eyes downcast.

"Do Mr. and Mrs. Morningstar know nothing about your parents?"

"I don't know."

"But have you never asked them?"

"I have never discussed it with them."

His questions agitated her, he knew, and he didn't believe she was being candid with him, so he reluctantly dropped them. He remained silent to give her a chance to tell him why she sought him here at an hour when all the rest of the family were abed.

Woman's Nightmare

The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. This great and wonderful remedy is always applied externally, and has carried thousands of women through the trying crisis without suffering.

of this household as Italian or Spanish. Now, then, how do you account for it?"

The little pucker in her brow indicated to him how his inquisitiveness troubled her. She turned to him with anxious appeal in her eyes. "Is it necessary to account for it—before you can advise me?"

"Yes, it is," he stubbornly persisted. "The more I know about you the better I can help you."

She dropped her eyes and did not at once answer. But presently, with evident great reluctance, she spoke. "If I talk in a more educated way than the rest of the family it is only because I have read a few books that came in my way."

I should think very few books indeed would come in your way on this farm?" He put it questioningly. "I have never seen you so much as look at any books when they have been lying about. What books ever come in your way?" Mrs. Morningstar says this is the first summer she has taken boarders since she gave up keeping a hotel twenty-one years ago. And when, in God's name, do you get time to read, when even a chance newspaper has to be read surreptitiously between trips to the spring house for food? Look here; I heard you say last night that old Morningstar wouldn't let you read anything but the Bible on Sunday and that that day was the only time you had to read at all, and you declined Miss Ellery's offer of books."

The troubled pucker in her brow deepened, her chin quivered, and he had the alarm of thinking she was going to cry when to his astonishment a little ripple of laughter broke from her. He had never seen her even smile, and he would not soon have looked for a laugh from a Minor Dolores. He was sure that Dolores was not more dumfounded when his waxed conversational than he was to hear this girl laugh. Somehow the bare idea of laughter was eliminated from the impression she gathered of her from day to day. But then no two things about her did it together.
